

TERMS AND CONDITIONS OF BUSINESS 2021

We aim to offer our clients, quality psychological / psychiatric assessments and therapy, with a personal and warm service, at a fair cost. We hope this statement about our professional services is helpful to you. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to get in touch with us.

Our Commitment To Our Clients

We will:

- Deal with any queries promptly. We always aim to return telephone calls and emails as soon as possible.
- Consider the interests of the person receiving therapy as paramount and keep their information confidential. (Please see our confidentiality policy for more information).
- Provide a comprehensive assessment and suggest a course of action based on that assessment.
- Be clear about the number of meetings likely to be necessary to help you to budget.
- Advise you of alternative relevant services such as the NHS if they might be available to you.
- If you have been referred by someone else such as a family member or an organisation who is paying for your assessment or treatment, they may want to receive information about you as a condition of payment. We undertake to maintain strict levels of confidentiality and so it is vital to reach a clear understanding / agreement with your Practitioner about what information can be shared, with whom and when. Please talk to them about this. We ask anyone who seeks information about the work we are doing as a condition of payment to make their requirements clear in writing so that this can be discussed with you at the start.

We do not:

Regretfully, we are unable to offer an 'emergency service'. This means that if you require urgent help, you will need to contact your G.P. or the emergency services on tel No. 999 for emergencies or 111 for urgent assistance.

Who we are:

All of the associates within The Salisbury Practice are qualified and experienced clinicians. Each member of the practice is trained in evidence based psychological / psychiatric interventions. Further details about individual therapists is available to you. If you would like to know more, for example, their qualifications, experience, etc, please do ask when you attend for your appointment or by contacting us.

Please note that the hourly rate below applies to therapy sessions or assessments as well as report writing. Autism assessments differ. Standard letters are usually free of charge as are telephone discussions up to 15 minutes.

If you are using health insurance:

If you are expecting an insurance or health care company to pay for your sessions, please make sure that they have agreed to pay for you to attend and how many sessions they are prepared to fund. Since this information is private to you, our therapists will not know your arrangement with your health care provider and so therefore, if they stop funding, you will be responsible for paying for your on-going treatment and any outstanding invoices.

Our hours of business:

Information about availability of your therapist will be made available to you separately. However, appointments are offered throughout the day from 8.00am until 9.00pm, Monday to Saturday. Our Admin team are available Monday - Thursday until 3pm and until 2pm on Fridays.

Our insurance cover:

All associates within the practice hold their own individual professional indemnity and personal liability insurance. The Salisbury Practice, the business, also holds professional indemnity and personal liability insurance. If you require further details regards this please do ask.

Data Protection Act:

The data protection act requires us to advise you that we write down and keep information you give us about you for the sole purpose of carrying out our work with you and improving our services. Both our admin team and your Practitioner will store information about you. We look after information with great care and in accordance with the law and professional guidelines. We are required to ask you to consent to us storing this information. Before beginning work with any practitioner please sign here to give your consent to us 1) keeping information about you and contacting you from time to time for routine business reasons (e.g. making appointments) 2) contacting you after your appointments to obtain routine feedback to help us improve our service. You can read our Privacy Notice, Confidentiality Policy and other relevant Policies on our website. You are entitled to ask to see all of the information we have about you. Please see our Subject Access Request Policy

Email:

Please remember that email is an insecure method of communication. We will always password protect any emails containing sensitive information (aside from routine appointments).

Client care:

Our aim is to offer you an efficient and effective service at all times. We hope that you will be pleased with your interactions with us. However if you do have some concerns, please raise it in the first instance with the therapist you have been seeing if possible. If your therapist has not been able to resolve your queries or concerns, then please contact our practice manager Moira Presslee or Director, Steve Holmes who can provide a copy of our complaints procedure.

I confirm that I have read and understood and that I accept these terms and conditions of business.
